Spirit is the root to success of student participation in high school activities. Last year our spirit was shot down. Due to the Levy failing in March all spring sports and extracurricular activities were cancelled. But this year we had to take a new outlook and start rebuilding the pride that was lost in the year before.

Rebuilding the spirit was not hard at first, but when we had to forfeit all but one of our first five football games, the task became more difficult. The students stuck together though, and soon the Jets' spirit was on the rise again.

Strike Up the Band

The 1981 season was a busy one for the Marching Jets. They sold cheese, sausages, pizzas, and M&M's to earn money to purchase new band uniforms for the 1982 year. The high-steppers also marched their way down the streets of South Vienna during the Annual Corn Festival in September, and in October, they played at special dedication ceremony for the cabins at the Clarence J. Brown Reservoir. The marchers had the chance to show their stuff as they pranced down the Avenues of Springfield and Catawba during the Memorial Day weekend.

The half-time shows were exciting as Tonya Williams, the drum major, directed such tunes as "Thor, " "Ice Castles," "Pictures," and "On Broadway." Adding their brilliance to the shows, was the Flag Corp, attired in bright cardinal, gold and white outfits.

Although the band members hustled and bustled all season, the thought of wearing a brand new uniform next year was worth the extra effort it took.

Coming Home . . .

1981 Homecoming

Homecoming was truly one of the "Best of Times," as the theme puts it. The chill of the autumn air only added to the anticipation of the week's activities and the gridiron climax on Friday night.

Students and faculty got things rolling by wearing anything from baseball caps, to sombreros, to the ever popular cowboy hat. Hallways were a scene from the past, for greasers and poodle skirts were present on Tuesday. There were cowboys and cowgirls on Western Wednesday, and football jerseys on Thursday. Everyone doned the powerful cardinal and gold on Friday, and the pep rally at the end of the day geared up Jet enthusiasm.

Suspense gripped the Jet Stadium as the queen candidates waited with quivering smiles for the voting results. The mystery was revealed when the crown was placed on the head of beaming Linda Roberts.

Energy exploded when the hungry gridders stormed the field and feasted on an 18-7 victory over the Shawnee Braves. Alumni shared in the victory too. Old letter jackets came out of moth balls and cedar chests, and the alumni band warmed up for a half-time performance.

A semi-formal dance was a relaxing wrap-up of the week. King, Scott McFarling, joined the queen and her court, and the festive worn students danced to the sounds of "Teez." They knew the week had really been one of the "Best of Times."

The football team started the season with high expectations. They were returning CBC champs and they had high hopes of defending their title. They won their first five games and their dreams were beginning to turn into reality. On October 17, all their dreams were shattered, the Jet Football team had to forfeit four of their wins. It was discovered that the team had an ineligible player, according to Section 3D of the OHSAA Constitution. This came about due to an unfortunate oversight in the school records. The team member was in his ninth semester and under state rules, you're only eligible for eight semesters. The frustration and disappointment hit everyone extremely hard but due to the quality and leadership of the team members and coaching staff, they were able to bring back their great sense of pride and spirit. Their enthusiasm never fell short, and every team member gave 100%. They knew in their own hearts that they were winners, and a first class family organization sticking together — even through the toughest of times.

The Northeastern Jets volleyball team finished the season with a somewhat disappointing 3-18 record. What the record did not show was the attitude of the volleyball players. The girls showed much enthusiasm and determination despite the growing frustrations of a difficult season. The boys cross-country team gained its second chance to compete in a state cross-country meet. The boys team compiled a 120-33 record on their way to the state.

The road to the state meet started with the CBC meet at London. Going into the meet the boys were undefeated in league competition and were the heavy favorites to capture the crown. On that windy day, the boys finished third behind London and Greenon, two very strong teams. The next meet was the sectionals held at North High School. The Jet harrie repeated as sectional champ totally demolishing the rest of th field. The week after that came th districts in Middleton. The Jet ru ners finished third in the distric and earning the right to compete i the state meet for the second yea in a row. When people say that Northeastern girls team is young they mean it. With that young team the Jets entered as the top team in the conference. Sophomore Kathy Stevens and freshman Charlene Dillard led the girls in the conference by placing first and second.

There were no girls sectionals so the girls automatically were granted a chance in the districts. As for the team it was a disappointment. Kathy Stevens came down with a sudden illness causing her to miss the district meet.

The team though, was represented in the state by freshman sensation Charlene Dillard. Charlene finished high enough as an individual in the districts to compete in the state.

Next year's team will be extremely hard to beat. The Jets will not lose a single person from the 1981-82 team.

The young Jet team traveled to Columbus on a crisp, windy Saturday morning. Everyone piled onto the bus with their blankets, pillows and radios. The boys who were to compete in the meet that day were quiet and thoughtful for the hour drive to Columbus. When we arrived the guys ran the course then started to prepare themselves for the meet. They were then called to the start and the race began. The Jet fans cheered on the boys, but they still finished with a disappointing seventeen out of eighteen teams. Next year looks very promising for the boys and a trip to the state meet is hopefully in their future.

The day of the race arrived with a bone chilling wind, which didn't let up. Everyone was exceptionally nervous, but the guys and fans seemed to comfort them. Before anyone realized what was happening the race was on. It finished with a great effort by Kathy Stevens and Freshman Charlene Dillard, who gave the Jets a first and second place. The C.B.C. meet was a race to be remembered forever by the Lady Jets.

Spirit . . . For All Seasons

It was a year of sadness, hard work and lots of determination that made the 1981-82 football cheerleaders what they are today. It was one of the youngest squads in NEHS history, but the girls didn't let age affect their performance. They worked extremely well together. They developed many new chants, cheers, and dances that made them one of the best squads around.

One of the more outstanding abilities the cheerleaders obtained was the problem of having to forfeit four out of five of the football games due to an ineligibility conflict. But the Varsity football cheerleaders didn't let this stop them from cheering the team on throughout the rest of the season.

'Chief Goes to State'

Dale "Chief" McDonald, a student at Northeastern, has made himself one of Northeasterns greatest athletes. His accomplishments surpass more than any athlete at N.E.

Dale took first place in the CBC Tournament. He also finished first in the sectionals by defeating Salyers of Urbana. The District Tournament took place at Hara Arena where Dale finished in second place. This then moved him to the top to qualify for the State Wrestling Tournament.

As he traveled to Columbus, Ohio, for his third trip to the State Tournament, the vision of becoming N.E. first State Champion was clearly seen. Although he was defeated he worked his way back up to a respectable fourth place. His name will be remembered for years to come by the students of Northeastern.

DIAMONDS ARE THE GIRLS' BEST FRIENDS

The Jet softball program began the 1982 season with a very inexperienced team, having only three returning lettermen on the squad. After losing their first three games it looked like it might be a long season for the team, but the Lady Jets had other ideas. They came back to win four straight and seven out of their next eight games to up their record to 7-4. The team also closed out their season strong by winning each of their last three games by fifteen runs. Two of those three wins were no-hitters pitched up by the Jets. The softball team completed their season with an 11-7 record overall and placed third in the CBC with a 10-4 record.

BALL STRIKE

— what a wonderful sound!

After a year layoff due to money problems in the district the baseball team was off to a fresh start.

Head Coach Doug Heskett received help from Ed Foulk and Bob Harrington. This enabled more individualized coaching for both the varsity and reserves.

The teams responded with progress and success on the diamond!

Separate, But Equal

The girls worked hard to gain back ground lost due to cutbacks last spring. They started workouts inside and moved outside when the weather improved. They picked up the tempo of their workouts and worked very hard thru-out the season. Their effort produced improvement, personal success, team success, and a good foundation for girls track in the future. A creditable coaching job by rookie coach Gorey.

The boys worked hard to regain form lost by lack of competition in 1980-81.

Hard work will produce! Coach Klopfenstein made sure they worked hard.

They showed constant improvement and became very competitive by the end of the season. Coach Klopfenstein has established a tradition of good cross country and track at Northeastern. The rebuilt foundation established this season will provide a springboard for rekindling that tradition next year.

This year's 1982 prom was held at Yannuccis and as it turned out, it truly became a night to remember. The room, decorated to a rainbow theme, in the soft glow of exquisitely slender candles, murmured whispers and the muted, romantic streams of music ebbed and flowed as Northeastern couples danced the night away.

The presiding royalty, their brief reign passing on each fleeting moment led the dancers to the strains of Open Arms, and soon the high point of the evening was at hand. In a breathless, tension-filled moment of anticipation, the envelope containing the names of the 1982-83 royal couple was opened — Queen Colleen Sweeney and King Larry Alexander, chosen by their peers to reign until this year's prom assumes their royal office.

Grub Day

Grub Day is an annual event for Seniors, which gives them a chance to use their imaginations and their creativity. This year's selections ranged from Army people to dragons to dolls.

The Seniors met at Bob Evans for the traditional Senior breakfast, then proceeded to the school to display their garb and make spectacles of themselves.

Grub Day offered an opportunity for a little harmless fun and craziness. All in all, the day was a success which the Seniors will long remember.

Annual Staff

The 1982 Annual Staff is proud and pleased to present this edition of the Pilot. This yearbook is the result of much thought and many hours of labor. Everyone on the staff should be credited for the effort and time which they contributed towards the book.

Work on the yearbook began in the summer when Tonya Williams, Managing Editor, Angie Dickerson, Activities Editor, and Valerie Crider, Photography Editor, attended a week-long workshop at Eastern Kentucky University. There was also a workshop held at school to help the entire staff.

Student Government

The Student Government kept themselves very busy this year. In the fall, members hustled to plan the annual homecoming festivities and dance. They also prepared and served a chili supper prior to two of the home football games. Parents, students, and friends were all welcome to attend. At Christmas, members once again sold Christmas poinsettias and cactuses. Later in the year came the third annual Career Day, sponsored and executed by the Student Government and members. The purpose of Career Day is to provide the student body with an opportunity to become familiar with a wide variety of career fields. In March, a Domestic Student Exchange Program was carried out. The government's final project was providing concession at the annual auction, held at Northeastern. Although the year was a busy one, the Student Government still managed to maintain and carry out the leadership in the school.

Student Exchange

For the second consecutive year in a row, the Student government sponsored the Domestic Student Exchange Program. This year, Northeastern hosted 10 students from Fort Madison, Iowa, and sent nine N.E. students to visit there. Both weeks were terribly busy, but all had fun. The "Iowans," when they were here, visited such sights as The Air Force Museum, The French Market in Columbus, The Art Museum in Dayton, and many, many more. When the Jets were in Iowa, they were shown attractions like the Sheaffer Pen Company, the Iowa State Correctional Institute, and a local museum. Many new friends were made those two weeks, and after the tears and heartaches of leaving each other, Ohio bid farewell to Iowa — but perhaps not forever.

Scholarship Teams

Ohio Tests of Scholastic Achievement

For the second consecutive year, the Student Senate sponsored Northeastern's participation in the Ohio Tests of Scholastic Achievement. Students were nominated by their teachers to compete in different areas of interest. This year, the test was given on May 1 at Urbana College.

While some of these students took the test in stride, others spent hours in preparation with their teachers in hopes to score well. Four of them placed well in our district, (Northeastern is in the Ohio State University District) and one placed in the State of Ohio.

The 1981-1982 year was a unique year for the National Honor Society — for it had only 13 members on its roster. While being small had its advantages, it also had its disadvantages: the N.H.S.'ers had to work extra hard to sell enough candy to help pay for its expenses.

The year's major expense was the week-long Washington D.C. trip, "A Presidential Classroom for Young Americans," for two Honor Society members. Brad Johnson and Barbara Harmer were the two selected to go. They saw and learned many things that week, and both were happy to have gone.

One evening during the spring, members "dressed appropriately" and hustled on over to the North Gym for an eighth grade orientation. Their job was to give the incoming freshmen and their families a guided tour of the building. Despite a few wrong turns and some noisy little brothers and sisters, everyone had a good time.

The year wrapped itself up as 26 new members were inducted into the Honor Society — only three of which were seniors. The 23 remaining juniors are looking forward to an eventful 1982-1983 year.

Drama . . . Wild West Style

Although the NEHS Drama Club did not present as many plays as in previous years, the members remained active and had a lot of fun.

In addition to sponsoring and running the annual Fall Variety Show, the Drama Club put on its second dinner theater, March 11, 12, and 13 in the N.E. Commons.

The play was a type of "musical melodrama" — a very funny show entitled "The Saga of Sagebrush Sal." It was the typical western melodrama, with the maiden in distress, the hero (or heroine), and the villain. It came complete with cowboys, Indians, Can-Can girls, and a Mexican Minister.

Since this "rootin, tootin" show was done "in the round" (the audience in front of and on both sides of the stage), audience participation was much easier, and more fun.

Future Farmers

Future Farmers

The Northeastern Chapter of the FFA had a busy, but enjoyable year. Members sold straw during the summer and citrus fruit in December.

Thom Goodfellow was named Star Freshman, Dave Pendleton was named Star Chapter Farmer, and Barry Woodworth and Jay Hoeswischer were named Star Greenhands. The Wool team placed first in state competition with Lisa Evans being first individual. Rural Land Judging team placed fourth in district, first in county, while the Urban Land team placed third in state with Mike Wiseman being second individual.

FFA was involved in various other activities such as Children's Farm Day, the parent appreciation banquet, and State Convention. NE FFA was represented at the National Convention by Kelly Manion, April Augustus, Dave Pendleton, Barry Woodworth, and Lenny Blosser.

Future Homemakers

During the year the Northeastern Chapter of the FHA was involved in various activities. They had a Halloween party, went Christmas caroling at the Mueller Center and Sharon View Nursing Home, and held a children's Christmas party. They also had fund raising projects such as a candy sale and a Spirit Contest during the lunch periods to collect money for Children's Hospital.

Showing their school spirit, they baked cookies for the basketball and wrestling teams.

FHA members competed in Regional and State competitions, went to the State Convention, and attended the District meeting at North High School.

At the Awards Banquet, new officers were elected and Jeanette Cleaver was chosen as the new FHA Queen.

le français club

Throughout the 1981-1982 year, the French Club participated in many activities. Along with the Spanish Club, they showed their school spirit by serving tacos to the football players and cheerleaders prior to the Kenton Ridge game. They also prepared and served a delicious "western meal" at the Dinner Theater, "The Saga of Sagebrush Sal" — a western comedy.

The annual caroling trip to the Masonic Home, however, had to be cancelled due to incliment weather conditions.

The year went out with a bang as the members trooped out to the reservoir, one sunny day in May. Members had a super time grilling hamburgers and hot dogs, and playing ball. The highlight of the day was when Mr. Burt got out the "Ptank," a French game.

Spanish Club Gains a New Advisor

The Spanish Club, under the supervision of their new advisor Mr. Burt, (also the French Club advisor) had a very exciting year. He added a lot of life to the club by arranging many new and different activities.

The year began as the new members of the Spanish Club were initiated in November. These first year Spanish students were required to parade around the school wearing a bull's "horn," "nose," and "tail" if they wished to become a member of the club. This proved to be a fun day despite the fact that these underclassmen were teased by the "older," more "sophisticated" Spanish Club members.

Most of the members participated in a trip to El Papagayas, a local Spanish restaurant, to enjoy their favorite Mexican cuisine. They also had a bowling/pizza party one afternoon after school.

Foreign Language Honor Societies

French/Spanish Honor Societies

Membership in the Foreign Language Honor Societies is open to students who have had more than one year of a foreign language and have maintained an A average. Although it has been the tradition to initiate new members at the end of the school year, during the 1981-1982 year, however, a new custom was adopted. Instead of a spring initiation, the French and Spanish Clubs decided on a fall induction. In the fall of 1982 both foreign language clubs will then accept new members into their honor societies.

Officials Club . . . the Newest Club at Northeastern

A new club was formed at Northeastern this year!

The Officials Club — led by advisor Mr. Kranz. This club, made up of seniors, officiated the intramural volleyball and basketball games held during activity period. They spent many hours in preparation learning the signals and rules of both games. Mr. Kranz, likewise, spent much time preparing for each day's agenda. In the eyes of the students at Northeastern as well as the faculty, they felt that this club was a super one — encouraging the club to continue next year.

The Northeastern High School Choir enjoyed a busy year under the guidance of their new director, David Bowermeister. In the fall, they performed at Catawba School and also participated in the 1981 Variety Show with the song, "Gonna Build A Mountain."

Christmastime was celebrated by the choir with an evening concert. Two luncheon concerts were held during school for the students at Northeastern. Another concert was given at the Upper Valley Mall where the choir recorded their Christmas songs for a program that was aired on WIZE.

During the spring the choir took an active part in the dinner theatre production, "The Saga of Sagebrush Sal." They gave concerts at South Vienna and Rolling Hills. The Spring and Arts Concert, and a performance at Commencement rounded out the year.

The "Goodtime Gang" performed at these above functions plus they sang for the welcoming dinner for the Fort Madison Exchange Students, and at the Freshman Orientation program.

CONCERT BAND

The Northeastern High School Concert Band participated in several activities during the year. For the Christmas season they held a concert in the North Gym.

Several members of the band participated in the Ohio Music Education District Contest at Beavercreek High School in February. The Brass Quartet consisting of Joel Wilson, Robert Cline, Barbara Harmer, and Bruce Browning earned a Good rating in the Class B Competition. The Percussion Ensemble consisting of Susan Otstot, Pete Pemberton, Ron Schinkle, Barbara Harmer, Lori Knick and J. D. Miller, earned a Superior rating in the Class A Competition. Barbara Harmer received an Excellent rating for her Class B French Horn Solo.

In 1981-1982, the Jet Gazette Staff adjusted to many new changes. Perhaps the most visible change was the Newspaper Room. The staffers packed up their pencils, paper, and typewriters from the back hall location and moved to a cleaned-out audio visual room in the IMC. Another difference from past years was that there were only two returning members — the rest were beginners. Towards the middle of the year, the staffers experienced a big, big change. Mrs. Ark, the advisor, took the last half of the school year off to have and raise a baby. (Alyson Dante). Into her place came Mrs. Turoff, who finished the remaining months as the advisor.

Despite these adjustments which had to be dealt with, the staff was successful in consistently producing an excellent newspaper.

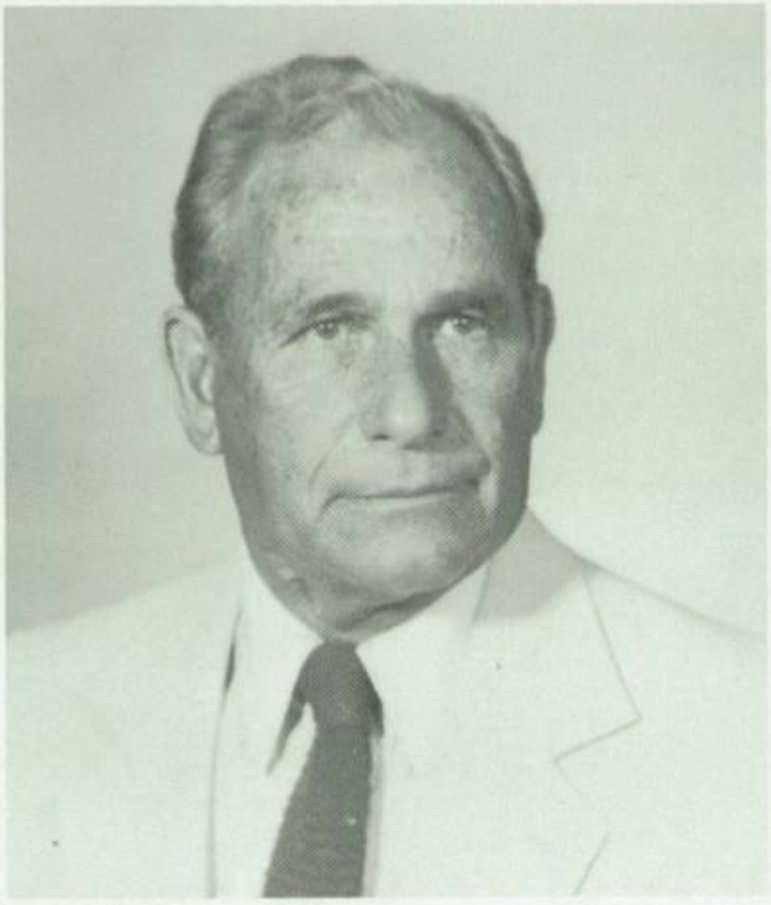
IN MEMORY OF



Mr. Don LaBonte
1920-1981

The man himself
Stood firm and tall
And he was greatly
Admired by us all.

He was hard and he was tough.
His hands were calloused
His face was rough.

But there was a heart
inside of him
You could see it in his devilish grin.

He worked us hard
And he worked us long.
But he made us learn
When he stood strong.

Now all we have is the memory of him,
If we could just see his face once again.

Mr. Charles W. Stephens, Superintendent
1965-1981

With much dedication, Mr. Charles W. Stephens persevered for sixteen years of hard times. He made a major contribution in building the new high school, the Rolling Hills Learning Center, and the additions to Northeastern High School. His first priority was good education for all of the students in the Northeastern School District. His efforts will always be remembered and greatly appreciated.

THE JET AGE
IMPROVED JET AIRCRAFT

As the school year drew to a close, the spirit that had been apparent in the students suddenly changed into what many call "spring fever." The warm weather and the thought of only a few more weeks of school made all the students very anxious to hear that final bell. The final bell that would tell them they were free at last — at least for the summer . . .

For the senior class though, that final bell would be the last and their high school years would become another memory. When the school year begins, May seems as though it's a million years away. But before we realize it, the last day is here bringing with it the joy of not having any more classes and the sorrow of leaving our friends.

Tonya Williams
Managing Editor

As the new year began, the '82 PILOT made an apparent change. Aside from the usual switch of staff members and editors, the PILOT also received a new advisor, who brought along fresh ideas and a new style.

No matter what you try to do in life you're always going to want a group of dedicated people behind you willing to give their all for what you're trying to create. This year, our creation was the 1982 PILOT.

As you work with people throughout the year, you can see the frustration build when deadline days get close. There were many times when we all felt like giving up and now I would like to say thank-you to those who didn't. My Editors and staff put in many long hours to make a book which captured the memories that made the year 1982 unique. Again I thank-you.
